

Dear FCC

I have found Satallite Radio Provides a great service to the people. More than half of the regular radio stations in my area have been bought by Clear Channels. I got sick of listening to what these stations offered so in April 2004 I bought a xm radio What it provides is what commerical radio in the area dosen't. News from both sides of the political spectrium, weather when I want it, and the kind ofr programing I can't find anywhere elece. To let the NAB tell the people what they can and can't see would be like the broadcasters telling cable what they can and can't put on Television. This can't go forward I bought Satallite Radio for the choices not for the some old programing
